RUTGERS FOOTBALL

About The State University

Rutgers, the State University, began as a struggling colonial college before the Revolution. Founded in 1766 by Dutch pioneers, Rutgers was originally called Queens College under a charter from King George III of England. The young college's existence was threatened by the Revolution, but growth followed that conflict, just as unprecedented expansion was experienced after the last World War.

Rutgers was given its present name in 1825, after generous gifts had been received from Colonel Henry Rutgers, a New York philanthropist. Forty years later it was designated the Land Grant College of New Jersey, the liberal arts course was enlarged, and courses leading to bachelor degrees in agriculture and engineering were added.

In 1902 a ceramics department was established, New Jersey College for Women with its own New Brunswick campus, was founded in 1918; the School of Education added in 1923; and in 1925 the Extension Division for non-degree education and the School of Journalism were established. The College of Pharmacy was added in 1927. University College, degree-granting evening division, was established in 1934, and Newark University was merged with Rutgers in 1946. In 1945, the State Legislature brought all divisions of Rutgers within the designation of the State University of

New Jersey. In 1950, an act of the State Legislature incorporated the College of South Jersey in Camden, including a two-year liberal arts college and a law school, into the State University as the Rutgers College of South Jersey. The liberal arts college has since expanded to a four-year curriculum. In April, 1955, N.J.C. was renamed Douglass College. Last year, under a reorganization program, the University was officially designated, Rutgers, The State University, and came under the management of an 11-man Board of Governors.

The Rutgers football team described in this brochure is composed only of students in the Colleges for Men in New Brunswick, which have an enrollment of 3,000. There are approximately 20,000 full and part-time students in all divisions of the State University.

The Rutgers Coaching Staff

John R. Stiegman, Head Coach

JOHAN R. STIEGMAN, appointed head coach in February, 1956, is a 34-year-old graduate of Williams College. Now in his first head coaching position, he was an aide to Charley Caldwell at Princeton from 1946 to 1955.

Stiegman attended Riverside High School in his native Buffalo, N. Y., and entered Williams after his graduation. In addition to being an outstanding tackle, he was a distance swimmer and played hockey and lacrosse.

He was graduated from Williams in 1944 and served two years in the Navy, seeing action in the Normandy invasion and later in the Pacific Theater before joining Caldwell at Princeton in 1946. At first he was on the freshman coaching staff, moving to the varsity as line coach in 1949. In the days of two-platoon football, he was the defensive specialist.

At Princeton he coached hockey and 150-pound crew in addition to football. He is Rutgers' 14th football coach since 1900.

Stiegman is married to the former Elizabeth Tindall of Princeton. The couple has two children, Holly, 8, and Elthea, 6. They now live in Highland Park.

Matthew J. Bolger, Jr., End Coach

ANATIVE OF Newark, Matthew J. Bolger is a graduate of Cornell University. After completing St. Benedict's Prep in Newark where he earned all-state mention in 1940, he entered Notre Dame. He served in the Marine Air Corps during 1942-45, seeing Pacific duty on an aircraft carrier. Bolger entered Cornell after leaving the service, graduating in 1948. He began his coaching career the next year as St. Benedict's line coach. In 1950 he moved to Upsala College and in 1951 joined the Brown University staff as end coach. Bolger came to Rutgers in March, 1956. He is 37 years old. Bolger now lives in Edison Township.

Joseph J. Stanczyk, Backfield Coach

BACKFIELD COACH at Columbia under Lou Little for the past 10 years, Joe Stanczyk joined the Rutgers staff last March when Frank Burns resigned to take a high school coaching post. A Columbia graduate, he is a Navy veteran and coached six years at Admiral Farragut Academy, where his teams lost only three games in six years. In addition to football, he coached basketball and track at Farragut. The holder of a Master's Degree from Columbia Teachers College, Stanczyk and his wife, Lois, live in Glen Rock.

Robert S. McCoy, Line Coach

FORMER SINGLE wing center at Penn State, Bob McCoy is serving his second year on a college coaching staff. He was head coach at three Pennsylvania high schools during 1951-1956, serving two years at each. Most recently the Lock Haven, Pa., native was at Sunbury High. Earlier he coached at Northumberland and Ford City. An honorable mention All-American performer, McCoy played under Bob Higgins at Penn State during 1944-46. He once earned Associated Press "Lineman of the Week" honors. McCoy now lives in Highland Park.

Warren E. Harris, Freshman Coach

BEFORE JOINING Rutgers staff in March, 1956, Warren Harris was head coach at Liberty High School in Bethlehem, Pa., for two years. A graduate of Missouri Valley College, the Dexter, Iowa, native was second team halfback on the Little All-American squad in 1942. He served 32 months in the Navy after his 1943 graduation from Missouri Valley, participating in the Normandy invasion. He played two seasons with the Bethlehem Bulldogs (1946-47) after his discharge, returning to his alma mater as backfield coach and later moving to Edwardsville (Ill.) High as football and track coach. He also coaches Rutgers Varsity Basketball team.

1957—THE OUTLOOK

If there is a single adjective to describe the 1957 Scarlet eleven, it is "experienced." Experienced, that is, in comparison to 1956, when the team entered September without benefit of a single day's formal drilling in the single wing and 22 days to get ready.

There are 19 lettermen on hand. They include three ends, one tackle, four guards, three centers, two quarterbacks, three wingbacks, two fullbacks and one tailback. Eleven members of last season's team are missing but only four were regulars during the year.

In addition to the 19 letter winners, there are eight returnees who did not see enough action to qualify for letters. And there are some six to eight sophomores from an average freshman team expected to be of help.

There are some vulnerable positions. Only captain-elect Dick Pfeiffer and junior Dick Howard, who played little, return at tackle. Bill Pulley, a sophomore, is expected to help, but other tackle strength probably will come from some dark horse candidate who shines in practice.

Bill Austin stands head and shoulders above the tailback aspirants. Any injury to Austin, the offensive leader a year ago, would hurt severely. Although three wingback veterans are listed, the availability of Jay Hunton, pass-catching whiz of last fall, is questionable due to a leg operation.

"In effect," John Stiegman says, "we were a freshman team playing a varsity schedule last year. Now we have not only our varsity veterans, but the freshmen, who have a year of single wing ball behind them. If we can avoid crippling injuries, we should be much improved. Our biggest objective will be to play 'solid football' in our Princeton opener."

Scarlet Players

The 1957 Captain

RICHARD PFEIFFER, senior tackle. Dick Pfeiffer appeared in more plays than any other member of the squad last fall, demonstrating the coaching staff's confidence in his ability. He started the season behind last year's co-captain Art Robinson, but was shifted to left tackle early and held his job easily. Fairly fast, Dick is 6-1, 207. An all-state selection at Hackettstown High, he also played basketball and baseball. He's a member of the Scarlet's golf team. Hobbies are hunting and photography. Business major.

Ends

LEE AMMERMAN, sophomore. Tall and rangy, Lee played three sports as a freshman, doing best in basketball, where he figures to be a big help with rebounding. Good hands, is talented pass catcher. Princeton High graduate, physical education major.

JOHN "JACK" CANAL, senior. Jack held the first string left end berth most of last season, thanks to improvement defensively. He hauled in four passes for 55 yards. Must beat off challenge of several underclassmen. Also member of track team, he is Haddon Heights High graduate, hopes to attend dental school after graduation. Biological Sciences major.

ROBERT CLARK, sophomore. A freshman regular and an all-state Group II end at Millville Memorial High, Bob should make a bid for regular duty. At 6-4, 205 pounds, he's ideal for his position. Also played basketball and competed in track in high school. Education major.

ALAN GOLDBERG, senior. Shunted from position to position until last fall, when he finally saw duty at end, Al is a former all-county fullback at Hillside High in Union County. Vice president of his fraternity, Delta Upsilon, he should see reserve action. Education major.

JOSEPH KORTEN, sophomore. A service veteran, Joe was a reserve with last year's freshman eleven. He's a graduate of Hawthorne High, where he played both football and basketball. History major.

NICHOLAS NEILEY, junior. Although he saw infrequent action last fall, Nick is considered strong candidate for regular duty this year. Strong, willing, a good blocker and pass catcher, he was first string defense in lacrosse last spring, earning "most improved" trophy. Physical Education major.

DAVID POOLEY, senior. A two-time letter-winner, Dave was shifted to right end in mid-season last year and caught 60-yard touchdown pass in Columbia game. Is ex-center. Played football, baseball and basketball at Fair Lawn High. Defenseman in lacrosse past two springs. Member of Cap and Skull, Crown and Scroll, Varsity "R" Club treasurer and lacrosse Club vice president. Education major.

ROBERT SIMMS, sophomore. The outstanding sophomore prospect, Bob, brother of Gene, has all the physical equipment necessary to excel. Fast enough to hold the Charleston High School (West Virginia) low hurdles record, he is almost 6-3, weighs 205. Is best soph bet to be a starter. Also played frosh basketball and track. Political science major.

GERALD WEBB, sophomore. Also a freshman reserve, Jerry played his high school ball at Lincoln High in San Diego, Calif. At 6-2, 195, he could develop with maturity. Business major.

CHARLES "DUTCH" WERMUTH, junior. On his way to a fine sophomore year last fall, Dutch suffered a broken arm against Boston College. Tough defensively, he had snared five passes for 84 yards when sidelined. Looks like a good bet to regain starting honors. Also excelled for basketball team. Played for Palmyra High School. Biological Sciences major.

Tackles

RUSSELL ARGOTT, sophomore. Hurt midway through last season, Argott's true abilities are not known. Only 17, he has the build (6-2, 195) to develop by his junior season. Graduate of Hawthorne High. Physics major.

EVERETT DRAKE, senior. Ineligible since his freshman year, Ev was an outstanding tackle at Somerville High School. Played lacrosse last fall to get in shape and could help. President, Delta Kappa Epsilon. Physical Education major.

RICHARD HOWARD, junior. Dick has added 40 pounds since his freshman year, now, at 210, appears ready for a starting job. Brother of ex-guard Bob Howard, Dick was all-conference at Newburgh Free Academy. May be successor to last year's co-captain, Art Robinson, at right tackle. Political Science major.

ROBERT LIVINGSTON, sophomore. Bob packs the size (230) but must pick up speed to help. A reserve for the freshmen, he was captain of Manasquan High School's team in 1955. Physical Education major.

JACOB ORBOCK, senior. A part-time operative last season, Orbock has yet to live up to his high school billing at Steelton, Pa. Expected to continue as a reserve. Biological Sciences major.

RICHARD PFEIFFER, senior. See "Captain," beginning of section.

WILLIAM PULLEY, sophomore. One of the key members of last year's freshman line, Pulley accompanied freshman coach Warren Harris here from Liberty High in Bethlehem. He's also an excellent weight man in track. Bill is expected to push for starting consideration. Industrial engineering major.

GEORGE SCHWARTZ, sophomore. Another substitute for the frosh eleven last fall, George has good size (230) but lacks speed. Played freshman lacrosse. He's a graduate of James Madison High in Brooklyn. Mathematics major.

NUGENT SHARP, junior. A high school center at Barboursville, West Virginia, Sharp was ineligible last fall but returns to the gridiron wars this year. Shifted to tackle, he has added some 25 pounds in the past two seasons. Industrial Engineering major.

JAMES SIERK, sophomore. A center last fall with the frosh, Jim has been shifted because of slowness afoot. Captained his high school team in Warsaw, N. Y. Also wrestles. Chemistry major.

Guards

MARTIN COHEN, sophomore. A reserve on the 1956 frosh, Marty is a graduate of Fair Lawn High, where he was picked for the all-conference squad. History major.

LOU DELL'ANGELA, sophomore. Twin brother to center Silvio, Lou is a tough competitor who may have the potential to help in the future. A graduate of Highland Park. Natural Sciences major.

PAUL GUSTIN, sophomore. The top-ranking sophomore guard, Paul, a veteran of the rugged brand of ball played in central Pennsylvania, is a graduate of Harrisburg Catholic. Highly rated by the coaches, he's considered a threat for starting honors. One of few married members of squad. Engineering major.

DAVID ISRAELSKY, sophomore. One of the top three frosh guards a year ago, Dave played at Plainfield High School, earning county honors. Also on freshman lacrosse team last spring. May possibly break into guard picture late in season. Married, one child. Engineering major.

LARRY MUSCHIATTI, junior. From also-ran on the 1955 freshmen to starter of every varsity game last fall is Larry's history in brief. A hard worker, he learned his football at Hamilton High in Trenton. Is expected to maintain first string role. Chemistry major.

JOSEPH POLIDORO, junior. Although not big, Joe's speed and hard charge are advantages at his pulling guard spot. He shared varsity job with Sabo, and Ed Burkowski last year. Should be 1-2 again. Played at Notre Dame High, New Haven, Conn., is biological sciences major.

RONALD SABO, senior. Originally a fullback, Ron made the transformation to the line well last fall and saw regular action at right guard. Played for St. Peter's High in New Brunswick. Business major.

JOHN SCHRUM, sophomore. A late developer with last year's frosh, Johnny is a dark horse candidate. The biggest of the guard candidates at 210, he originally played tackle at New Brunswick High. He also compete in track. Industrial engineering major.

FRED "GENE" SIMMS, senior. Gene shared the left guard role last year with Muschiatti and figures to do likewise this fall. Also a wrestler and trackman, he is from Charleston, West Virginia. Spent summer on west coast doing research for geophysical year. Geology major.

JOSEPH SKWARA, sophomore. All-state South-Jersey at Burlington High, Joe saw limited duty with last year's frosh, both as guard and fullback. Solidly built, may help as season progresses. Agriculture major.

HANS STOECKLER, sophomore. A starting guard with last year's frosh, Hans is described as a "little bundle of dynamite." Hits exceptionally hard for his size (5-9, 190). Has good potential, but is outranked by Gustin as best soph guard candidate. Grad of Bogota High. Chemistry major.

HERBERT THOMS, sophomore. Another frosh guard reserve, Herb was all-state Group III, second team, at Middletown Township High. Although not counted on for early duty, may develop as season progresses. Liberal Arts major.

Centers

SILVIO DELL'ANGELA, sophomore. A former guard at Highland Park High, SILVIO has good line-backing potential, but needs lots of attention before he's ready for regular duty. Also played scholastic baseball. Business major.

EVAN GILLINGHAM, sophomore. Evan shared the frosh center job last fall after winning trophy at Hawthorne High School. Now resident of Mantoloking. Also wrestles. Physical Education major.

ARMAND GLASSMAN, sophomore. Co-holder of frosh center job, Glassman lacks speed but has good size and is expected to develop. Played at Paterson Central, earning conference honors. Biological Sciences major.

DONALD MOZZOCHI, junior. Don was the starting center in several games last year, sharing the job with Bob Naso. Almost certain to see action this fall, his exact status depends on line-backing improvement and how competitors fare. Also on baseball team. Notre Dame High graduate, New Haven, Conn. Biological Science major.

ROBERT NASO, junior. Leg injuries retarded Bob's early conditioning last fall and by the time he was ready, fullback, his freshman position, was clinched and he was made first a guard, then a center. He came fast, starting several games. Standout in lacrosse as midfielder. Alumnus of Sewanhaka High. Physical Education major.

RICHARD OBERLANDER, senior. Perhaps the key candidate for center, Dick was number one quarterback until hurt last fall. Excellent line-backing ability dictated his switch to center, a post he originally played. A real leader and hustler, Obie's the father of three children, is a service veteran and squad's senior member at 26. Originally lived in Buffalo, N. Y. Physical Education major.

Wingbacks

THOMAS CHAPMAN, sophomore. A quarterback with last year's frosh eleven, Tom has been shifted to wingback where his speed and blocking ability can be utilized. All-League at Culver City (Calif.) High. Political Science major.

JAY HUNTON, junior. How well Jay recovers from a leg operation is the question holding up an estimation of his 1957 value. The leading scorer for Rutgers a year ago, he was among the nation's leaders in pass receiving. Has great speed and running ability. Held numerous track records at Shaw High School, Cleveland, O. Also earned state football honors. Is considering ministry as career. American Civilization major.

ROBERT LUSARDI, senior. Bob, Hunton and Bob Max shared the wingback role last fall. Lusardi's edge, if any came on defense. Fairly fast, he's former all-county performer from Somerville High. President of his class, vice president of student council, elected to Who's Who, member of Cap and Skull, Crown and Scroll, honorary societies. History major.

ROBERT MAX, senior. A flashy runner, especially on the reverses, Bob scored three touchdowns last fall. Former trophy winner at Allentown (Pa.) High. Capable offensively, needs polish on defense. Very shifty, good pass catcher. Liberal Arts major.

WILLIAM MCGOEY, sophomore. One of the several freshmen used at wingback last fall, Bill has put on some poundage, may gain more consideration. Played at Kingston (Pa.) High, where he also wrestled, competed in track. Business major.

RICHARD PENCEK, sophomore. Perhaps the outstanding sophomore wingback candidate, Dick had more time than any of teammates at wingback. Most valuable player at Port Jervis High (N. Y.) he also played basketball and lacrosse as a freshman. Physical Education major.

Quarterbacks

KENNETH ALLEN, sophomore. Ken saw some duty at the blocking past with last year's frosh. Also played frosh baseball. Was a halfback at Massapequa High, Long Island. Was honorable mention, Nassau County. English major.

NATHAN BECKER, junior. After spending freshman and part of sophomore years at center, Nat was shifted to blocking back. Active in numerous campus activities, he wrestles, plays lacrosse, has excellent grades. Biological Sciences major, hopes to attend medical school.

CHARLES "SAM" CROSBY, junior. Sam had his ups and down last fall, starting at tailback, moving to quarterback and finally to center. Now back at the blocking post, he's expected to help as a line-backer. Also fine wrestler. Starred as quarterback at Somerville High. English-education major.

RICHARD GARRETSON, senior. Originally a fullback, Dick made great progress in quarterbacking and line-backing last fall. Probably the hardest-working, most sincere member of squad. Excelled on mat last winter, going undefeated and winning "most improved" trophy. Was three-sport standout at Toms River High. Physical Education major.

JAMES ROGERS, sophomore. The outstanding sophomore back candidate, Jim was the key to the frosh attack and defense last fall with his quarterbacking, blocking and line backing. He's a standout on defense and might possibly oust the letter-winners from the starting job. Also played frosh basketball. Was fullback at Shaw High, Cleveland, O. Education major.

WILLIAM WHITACRE, senior. Bill made the tough conversion from T-quarterback to blocking back better than expected last fall. Shoulder injury hurt late season development. Brilliant student, with high "A" average, he also plays baseball, was president of class, is a Henry Rutgers scholar, on the Student Council, and participates in several other activities. Is strong candidate for graduate honors. Will battle Garretson and Rogers for starting job. Grad of Shaw High Cleveland, O. English major.

Fullbacks

GLENN HARRIS, sophomore. An all-south Jersey choice at Vineland High, Glenn saw duty with the 1956 frosh. Also participated in high school wrestling and track. Won state javelin honors. History major.

WILLIAM HOPWOOD, junior. An ankle sprain held "Hoppy" back from what might have been an exceptional sophomore year. A big, hard-hitter, he rushed for 199 yards, scored two touchdowns, caught two passes for 66 yards, and was sharp on defense. Also played baseball in spring. Was three-sport star at Monroe-Woodbury High, Central Valley, N. Y. Economics major.

LLOYD SEAMAN, junior. Lloyd got a break when Hopwood was injured last fall and capitalized on it. His good speed and defensive reactions gained him starting berth. Excellent kick-off specialist, frequently reaching the end zone. Also

Rutgers Athletic Administration

REGARDED as one of the best known figures associated with Scarlet athletics, "Rocky" reached a high point in his years of service and devotion to Rutgers in 1954 when he was appointed Director of Athletics, succeeding the late George E. Little, who left the post to give full time to administrative duties as Executive Secretary of the National Football Hall of Fame.

Rockefeller entered Rutgers as an undergraduate in 1912. He starred in football, basketball, and track during his four college years. He became associated with the College of Agriculture immediately after his graduation but left for service with the Army overseas during World War I. After the war, he went into industry for several years, then returned to Rutgers in 1924 as graduate manager of athletics. He was named head football coach in 1927 and in four years his teams won 19 and lost 16 games. In 1930, he resigned as coach in favor of administrative duties.

In 1932, he became head coach of 150-pound football. His lightweight teams were undefeated in 18 games and won Eastern Intercollegiate championships in 1933, 1934, and 1935. He returned again to administration in 1937 but assisted with the varsity ends when Harvey Harman came on the scene in 1938. "Rocky" again took over the varsity reins during World War II.

ALBERT W. TWITCHELL, Assistant to the Director 1935 graduate of Rutgers, Al Twitchell was an outstanding athlete during his undergraduate days, earning All-American honors in both football and lacrosse. After coaching at Sewanhaka High School in Long Island and Hofstra College, he returned to Rutgers in 1937 as assistant coach in lacrosse and 150-pound football. In 1950, he became head lacrosse coach, and served during 1948-51 as varsity line coach. In 1952, he relinquished his football chores to become assistant to the director of athletics. In the past seven seasons, his lacrosse teams have won 62 while losing only 21 and tying one. His 1955 team tied for the Laurie Cox Division title.

Dr. Hyman Copleman, Team Physician

Mike Stang, Trainer — Andrew Sivess, Assistant Trainer

John Powers, Custodian of Equipment

played lacrosse last spring. Excelled in all sports at Hummelstown, Pa., High. Physical Education major.

GEORGE VETH, junior. George saw little action last fall, but was just a shade behind the regulars. Works hard, conscientious, is likely to be in picture this year. Also runs track, has good speed. Graduate of Kearny High. Electrical engineering major.

Tailbacks

WILLIAM AUSTIN, junior. Perhaps the key member of the 1957 team. Was squad's offensive leader in almost every department last fall. Good speed, excellent running ability, fine safety on defense, he needs only to improve his passing to be among area's best. Scored 4 touchdowns, punted for better than 36 yards per kick. Also standout in lacrosse. Active in campus activities. Scotch Plains High graduate. English major.

ALFRED KILEY, sophomore. Most of Al's tailback duty with the frosh was as a punter. Gets great yardage, may help most this fall in that respect. Was a quarterback and end at Gorton High, Yonkers, N. Y. Physical Education major.

BRUCE WEBSTER, junior. Counted on as the second string tailback, Bruce good-naturedly accepts the nickname "Flower." Won coaching staff's "most improved" player gift last year, did some fine passing in late games. Has been maturing physically, now is 175 pounds. Excelled for basketball team and also played baseball in spring. Played at Mineola High. Physical Education major.

WILLIAM WOLFF, sophomore. Billy, son of Carl Wolff, a former Rutgers great, showed great promise in football, basketball and baseball as a freshman. Has grown, added weight since last fall, probably is best sophomore tailback candidate, should see duty. Was first string late in season with frosh. Graduate of Highland Park High. Sanitary Engineering major.

PRINCETON PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 15; Lettermen Graduated: 11

Whereas a year ago, Princeton had a veteran line and the problem of developing backs, the reverse is true in 1957. Only tackle Bob Casciola and guard Dave Grub return on the forward wall. As usual, however, Coach Charley Caldwell expects the substitutes and sophomores to give him a solid team by mid-year.

The Tigers have backs galore, including such standouts as John Sapoch, qb, Fred Tiley, fb, and Tom Morris, the triple threat tailback.

Caldwell states he'll be depending on sophomores more than usual. He is fortunate, though, to have a brilliant crop of yearlings, which rolled over six foes last fall, scoring 164 points to only 47 for the opposition.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Princeton 28, Rutgers 6

An unknown quantity a year ago, Charley Caldwell's Tigers crossed the goal line early against the Scarlet. A pass from Tom Morris to Charley Disbrow opened the scoring in the first quarter. In the second period Disbrow again reached pay dirt, this time with a Jim Mottley pass. Then Fred Tiley bucked for the third score, making it 21-0 at the half.

Although a fourth period Bill Gatyas-Jay Hunton pass salvaged some glory for Rutgers, Coach John Stiegman's first venture against his old boss was anything but enjoyable. The Tiger line was virtually impregnable, holding Rutgers to only 41 yards rushing all day. The Princeton forwards won the game.

CONNECTICUT PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 16; Lettermen graduated: 9

Connecticut, slowly on the rise in eastern football circles, has both quality and depth in lettermen returning for the backfield and end positions. Although hard hit by graduation in the interior line, the Huskies have four reserve lettermen guards, one tackle and one center back to help rebuild.

Co-captain Len King, a halfback, set a Connecticut rushing record last fall and probably will be the offensive leader again. UConn will be playing its first 10-game schedule since 1901. If there is a weak spot in this squad, it may be at tackle. Help is expected from the frosh team at end, guard and halfback.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Connecticut 27, Rutgers 7

Failure to cover well on punts spelled defeat for Rutgers last year as Connecticut halfbacks Gene Green and Lenny King racked up 163 yards via this medium. Too, Stigman employed a revamped lineup which was able to click for only 71 yards rushing. The Scarlet played without the services of tailback Billy Austin, out with a shoulder separation.

A pass from John Livieri to King accounted for the first UConn score, resulting in a 6-0 halftime bulge. Just prior to the half, Rutgers best drive stalled on the four-yard line. Livieri hit Green in the third period with another scoring aerial. King and Don McInnis ran for the other two scores. An 80-yard Bill Gatyas-Jay Hunton pass with 2:27 left in the game gave Rutgers its only tally.

COLGATE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 8; Lettermen Graduated: 12

New Colgate coach, Fred Rice, inherits a squad depleted by graduation of nine starters and three principal reserves. The devastating backfield of Guy Martin, John Call, Ed Whitehair and Charley Garivaltis is gone. So are two backfield reserves, three guards, two ends and a center.

Only the tackle slots are in tact, where Ralph Antone and Bill Usinger return. Much of the help may come from 16 non-lettering reserves. The schedule is as tough as any faced by Colgate teams. Biggest problem probably will be to replace Martin at quarterback. Leading candidates are Ray Harding and Danny Cifonelli.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Colgate 48, Rutgers 6

Guy Martin's faking and John Call's running were too much for Rutgers last year as Colgate accounted for more than 400 yards. Before the first period was over, Call had crossed the goal line three times on the same play while the Scarlet defenders were "chasing ducks." It was "no contest" after that, with the Red Raiders enjoying a 34-0 halftime advantage.

The most spectacular minute of play, however, notwithstanding all Colgate's scoring, was Rutgers drive for its streak-extending TD. With 38 seconds to go, Bill Gatyas and Jay Hunton combined on a 61-yard pass-run which put the ball on the Colgate six. From there, with the clock showing one second left, Hunton sprinted around left end on the ancient Statue-of-Liberty play.

LEHIGH PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 8; Lettermen graduated: 11

Lehigh's strong point for 1957 is the availability for the third consecutive year of t-quarterback Dan Nolan. He holds most Lehigh passing records and also is a capable runner. If someone can pick up the slack created by the graduation of rushing record holder Bob Naylor, the Engineers should be dangerous on the offense. Also needed will be ends to replace the excellent receivers, Tom Faillace and Austin Short.

Bill Leckonby considers defense his biggest problem. Most of the lettermen graduated excelled when the opposition held the ball. Tackles appear strong, with Lew Williams and Walt Bianco, but center and guard may be a problem.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Lehigh 27, Rutgers 13

Two long passes to end Austin Short, both getting Lehigh "off the hook," set up touchdowns which helped Lehigh to its fifth consecutive win over Rutgers last season. Although the Scarlet's offense showed some potency for the first time in this game, it was not enough.

An off-tackle surge by Bill Austin gave Rutgers a 6-0 lead, in the opening quarter, but Lehigh sent Bob Naylor and Dick Pennell over for second stanza tallies and a 14-6 lead. A pass to Short made it 21-6 before Jay Hunton ran 45 yards with a Bill Gatyas pass to make it 21-13. The Engineers last tally came on the game's final play when Gatyas fumbled in his own end zone. Guard Ron Lauretti recovered the loose ball for the six points.

RICHMOND PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen—20; Lettermen graduated—7

The Spiders have a flock of capable backs and a fine center in co-captain Dick Eaton, but need help in the line. The ends appear satisfactory on a first line basis but lack depth. Tackles are expected to be improved, but guard slot was shorn by graduation. With benefit of spring practice, the Richmond club may have its difficulties ironed out by the fall.

Four lettermen quarterbacks, three solid left halves, the regular fullback and second string right half are back for action, which should give the Spiders good offensive strength.

LAST GAME (1939): Rutgers 6, Richmond 6

Coach Ed Merrick was captain of the Richmond team which fought to a sensational 6-6 tie with Rutgers in 1939. The game, played in New Brunswick, saw Rutgers break a scoreless tie with only two minutes left in the game, only to have Richmond come back 90 seconds later, on the strength of accurate passing, to tie it up. The final gun sounded seconds after Richmond's try for the extra point failed.

RUTGERS—FOOTBALL'S PIONEER

Rutgers pioneered American intercollegiate football in an historic game played with Princeton, Nov. 6, 1869, on College Field, where the present-day Rutgers Gymnasium stands in New Brunswick. Football in its embryonic state bore striking, if rustic, resemblance to the modern game. Playing with 25 men on a side, the original Scarlet "eleven" beat Princeton, six goals to four. Rutgers students issued the challenge for the first game in hopes of avenging a 40-2 baseball defeat by Princeton in 1866. Employed in the first game were the rudiments of such later mayhem as the flying wedge, sleepers, and the first incident of a player kicking the ball toward his own goal.

DELAWARE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen—13; Lettermen Graduated—11

A strong sophomore class, 13 lettermen, and a history of fine success under Coach Dave Nelson put Delaware in position for another good year. Two switches, made in spring practice, have moved captain Joe Harvanik, formerly a tackle, to left end, and center Bob Jones to guard, bolstering two points which may have been weak.

Three regular backs return, plus several reserves and a host of solid sophs, making the offensive picture bright. Larry Catuzzi once again will quarterback the Nelson winged-T offense, which has been gaining national acclaim.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Delaware 22, Rutgers 0

After stopping a Rutgers march on its own three-yard line in the first half, Delaware tore the Scarlet's defense to shreds after the intermission last year to score the second shut out of the season over the Queensmen. Quarterback Larry Catuzzi and halfbacks Denny Luker and Tony Toto were the key culprits, monopolizing the 340 yards the Blue Hens gained via rushing.

After wasting a 70-yard march in the first half, Rutgers was unable to mount an offensive until the last five minutes of the game. The Scarlet was considerably hurt by injuries in this contest, with Bill Whitacre, Jack Canal, Jack Laverty, Lloyd Seaman and Gene Simms put out of commission.

LAFAYETTE PROSPECTS

Lettermen Returning—15; Lettermen Graduated—14

Rebuilding a line shattered from tackle-to-tackle by graduation is Steve Hokuf's biggest 1957 task. The backfield, however, appears strong, with Joe Bozik on hand for his third season of quarterbacking. Halfbacks Jim Hourihan and Al Caesar also are back, with Don Nikles, a 195-pound sophomore, expected to fill the void at fullback.

With 10 linemen among the 14 lettermen lost, Hokuf has made some switches to ease the problem. Jim Kontje has been moved from end to tackle, while tackle George Lloyd shifts to guard.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 20, Lafayette 19

For the first time using the single wing, Rutgers was able to move consistently last year in this game. A 90-yard march, longest of the season, started the Scarlet on the victory trail. Later marches of 67 and 55 yards put Rutgers ahead 20-12 in the fourth quarter. The Leopards last touchdown, with two minutes left, actually had little bearing on the game.

Billy Austin had one of those "dream" games for an offensive back. He scored twice, passed for the third TD, ran for 118 yards and passed for another 70. Joe Bozik, quarterback, excelled for the Leopards, but inability to contend with the Scarlet's run-pass tailback option was fatal for Steve Hokuf's eleven.

WILLIAM AND MARY PROSPECTS

With a new coach, Milt Drewer, formerly of Richmond, William and Mary is hoping 1957 bears little resemblance to last season when it failed to win a game. Drewer has plenty of beef on which to rely, but whether it is of the quality and has the speed to withstand an extremely difficult schedule is questionable.

The Indians have some standout backs in Charley Sidwell, Tom Secules, and Jack Yohe, all big and fast. They have four tackles over 225 pounds and the largest squad in the past six years. Lack of depth at center and end appear to be Drewer's chief problems.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 20, William and Mary 6

A tight pass defense and effective use of inside and outside wingback reverses were vital factors in the Scarlet's defeat of William and Mary in 1956. The Scarlet secondary snared four aeriels and permitted only 8 of 22 W&M passes to be completed. Three times interceptions stalled Indian drives, twice deep in Rutgers territory.

The Lusardi brothers, Bob and Lee, Bill Hopwood and Bob Max shared the rushing burden for the Scarlet. Only two passes, both by Bruce Webster, were completed, one, for 29 yards, setting up the second Rutgers score. The game, played in a steady drizzle, saw Rutgers without the services of four regulars hurt the previous week.

COLUMBIA PROSPECTS

Lettermen Returning—9; Lettermen Graduated—10

Buff Donelli's first season at Columbia may be a tough one—if he can't find a replacement for Claude Benham, the sensational quarterback, who was one of the nation's best in 1955-56. Other problems facing the new mentor, who will use the winged-T offense, are developing line and reserve strength.

The usual problems of a new coaching staff learning the abilities of a team without benefit of spring practice also are confronted. In addition to Benham, Columbia loses backs Art Wilson, Bob Ott and Carmen Marnell, the latter Benham's number one sub. Team's strongest post should be guard.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Columbia 18, Rutgers 12

Last year's battle between these two ancient rivals was Columbia's final outing under Lou Little. Settled by a Claude Benham touchdown pass with only 1:16 left, the game saw Rutgers do nothing until Columbia scored. In the second period, Benham threw his first TD pass at 2:58. Rutgers came back to tie on a Bill Gatyas-Dave Pooley combination at 10:40.

Columbia took a 12-6 lead on the first fourth period play. Two minutes later, Bob Max evened matters for the Scarlet. Neither side was able to convert. When Benham threw his clinching TD pass, Rutgers tried desperately to knot the count, but time ran out with the ball on the Lions 22-yard line. Lion scores were by Bruce and Brad Howard and Ron Szczypkowski. A Rutgers fumble on the Columbia 45-yard line with five minutes to go set up the winning TD.

National Football Foundation And Hall of Fame

This has been an eventful year for the National Football Hall of Fame, which now appears to be on the brink of a national fund-raising campaign.

All news has not been good for the Foundation, which in 1949 was located at Rutgers in recognition of college football's first official game having been played in New Brunswick between Princeton and Rutgers on November 6, 1869.

The passing of George E. Little, executive secretary since 1951, robbed the Foundation of a devoted worker who had done much to bring the Hall to its present position.

In April, Harvey J. Harman, former coach and administrator, was named to succeed Little.

Since then, plans have been formulated for a National Football Hall of Fame week, which will be declared late in the fall. During that week, it is hoped to stage a television network spectacular to help raise money to conduct the national fund-raising campaign, which tentatively has been set for 1958.

Other efforts currently under way to raise this "seed" money include campaigns by alumni of the following colleges: Army, Brown, Colgate, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Michigan, Navy, Notre Dame, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Pittsburgh, Rutgers, Syracuse and Williams.

New elections were held over the winter, placing 11 more former college greats in the Hall of Fame, bringing to 110 the total of players elected to the Hall since 1951. A schedule of award games to honor these players is being planned for the 1957 season.

From all indications, there should be considerable progress in the near future. A newly-organized Board of Directors headed by Chester J. LaRoche of New York and strong support by college alumni and the National Collegiate Athletic Association blended with the football know-how of Harman are expected to bring the Hall of Fame closer to reality than at any time since its inception in 1947.

For further information concerning the Hall's activities, address correspondence to: Football Hall of Fame, Winants Hall, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J.
